Books

The Path to the Presidency $24.95

Get the book that captures decades of New Hampshire politics. This beautiful, coffee-table book from the Concord Monitor will feature nostalgic images of candidates, events, triumphs and setbacks that make our state such a critical step on the path to the presidency. Purchase at the Concord Monitor, 1 Monitor Drive, Concord

We Went to War $29.95

In We Went to War, men and women remember how the war transformed – and often threatened – their lives. They tell their stories in words that are often poignant, sometimes tragic, and always human. Written by Meg Heckman and Mike Pride. Purchase at the Concord

Abraham Lincoln in New Hampshire $26.95

Not yet a major candidate for president, Abraham Lincoln spoke four times in New Hampshire in 1860. Ten weeks later, New Hampshire Republicans started him on his way to the White House. This is the story of how it happened. Purchase at the Concord

Concord 250: Celebrating 250 Years of Concord History $24.95

In celebration of Concord's 250th anniversary, the Concord Monitor, in partnership with the Concord250 organization, is proud to offer a beautiful new hardcover book, Concord 250. This is the third volume in our recent series of heirloom-quality coffee table books and covers the entire history of our fine city with an emphasis on photographic history from the mid 1800s through today. Purchase at the Concord Monitor, 1 Monitor Drive, Concord

Pliny Fiske $14.95

Author Mark Travis worked for many years as a reporter and editor at the Concord Monitor. Pliny
Fiske is a Civil War mystery involving a timid young pension agent, a boy maimed in the war, a spirited war widow, and a group of battle-scarred veterans intent on preserving a dark secret.
Purchase at the Concord Monitor, 1 Monitor Drive, Concord

Our War: Days and Events in the Fight of the Union $29.95

On the morning of April 15, 1861, friends roused Edward E. Sturtevant, the night watchman in Concord, New Hampshire, so that he could become the first man in the state to volunteer to fight for the Union. Thousands of men followed him into uniform during the next four years as the Civil War touched every heart and home. In Our War, Mike Pride uses letters, diaries, and contemporary newspaper accounts to shape fifty stories of death, love, bravery, and survival.
